DEMOCRATS TRIUMPH IN STATE ELECTIONS; FUSION IN NEW YORK

Massachusetts Returns Governor and State Ticket for Democrats—Democrat Governor in Virginia Without Contest—Close Fight in New Jersey—Republican Lead in New York Assembly and Judge Tickets.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Election returns at a late hour tonight showed a complete triumph for the Democrats in Massachusetts, where a governor and state ticket were chosen in a four-cornered fight, the selection of a Democratic governor and state ticket in Virginia without contest, the ascendancy of Fusion over Tammany Hall in New York City, with indications of a Republican victory for the New York assembly and judge tickets and a close fight for the state tickets in New Jersey, where President Wilson and administration forces failed to elect James F. Fielder to the governorship.
In Massachusetts David F. Walsh, Democrat, present lieutenant-governor, was elected by a plurality of 10,000 votes over August P. Gardner, Republican, Charles E. Smith, Independent, and governor Eugene N. Foss, Independent. Henry C. Carter, was chosen governor of Virginia, together with an entire state ticket, Republicans an ally, Progressive. In the early returns from New Jersey were delayed, though Democratic leaders claimed a safe plurality for James F. Fielder for governor over Edward C. Stokes, Republican and Governor. Fielder, who succeeded President Wilson as governor of New Jersey, had the support of the national administration, several members of the cabinet taking the stump in his behalf. National Republican leaders contended on behalf of Stokes and President Wilson and his policies were made the dominant issue.
In New York City the triumph of the Fusion ticket was assured and late returns from the state indicated assurance of a Republican majority in the general assembly, and the election of Republican chief judge of the court of appeals, associate judge in the court of appeals, and nine supreme court judges.
For United States senator, Maryland chose Blair L. Lee, Democrat. Democracy triumphed also in the twentieth New York congressional district where Jacob H. Cantor was elected, the 13th New York, George W. Left succeeding the late "Big Tim" Sullivan, and the third Maryland district, Chas. P. Coady being the choice. Returns from the third Massachusetts district had not been received at a late hour, but Democratic leaders claimed a victory.
TAMMANY SNOWED UNDER IN ELECTION IN NEW YORK CITY
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Tammany Hall was snowed out of the city election today, Fusion carrying all before it.
John Purroy Mitchell was elected mayor by a plurality in excess of 100,000 and may reach 125,000. Edward E. McCall, his Tammany opponent, early gave up the fight, sent a telegram of congratulation to Mitchell and went to bed.
The election of three men over their Tammany opponents gave the Fusionists nine votes out of the sixteen in the board of estimate, which controls the purse strings of the municipality. But in addition Fusion candidates were chosen to the board of presidents of Manhattan, Brooklyn, and the Bronx, adding five to the total and giving Fusion 14 votes to Tammany's two.

SOME INCIDENTS OF THE TRIP TO PELICAN

Five Aldermen To Present Report To Council At Thursday Meeting

Looking in very truth like "tough necks," tired and sore of muscle, the five members of the Edmonton city council who made the trip to the Pelican camp to inspect the city's last night shortly after 10 o'clock on the train from Athabasca and had no time in getting to their respective homes where hot baths and rest were the order of the evening.

As a direct result of their fatiguing Aldermen Walsh, Calder, Livingston and Smith will present a report to the city council at a special meeting to be held on Thursday afternoon when the matter of a contract with the Pelican company will be discussed, and all five aldermen will be heard during the past twelve days will be dealt with.

To give any detailed description of the trip, and more especially of the arduous journey home, to the Pelican camp, would be to repeat part of which was accomplished on snow. It would be an impossible. Elsewhere in this paper is the story of the expedition in brief. When the five aldermen left Athabasca on Wednesday last Saturday it was known that the journey would take longer than was at first expected. Yet only Aldermen Calder and Smith, with representatives of the three Edmonton papers, decided to go through with the undertaking, no matter what the cost.

G. A. M'KEE FOR SCHOOLS SUPT.

Will Be Proposed By Dr. Crang At Next Meeting of School Board

At the meeting of the school board on Thursday night, Dr. Crang will give notice of motion for the appointment of G. A. McKee, principal of Strathcona high school, to the position of superintendent of city schools, vacant last week by James McCall. Mr. McKee was formerly superintendent of schools for the city of Edmonton, and was nominated by the board for the position of superintendent of the schools of Greater Edmonton. After stormy and protracted discussion, extending over several meetings, Mr. McKee was eventually appointed to the position.
The appointment is one of the educational phases of the province, the salary being four thousand dollars per year.
Other names have been mentioned in connection with the position, but Dr. Crang says he has come across a number of other parents with similar views, but they are not large enough to carry the city.

PARENTS OBJECT TO VACCINATION

If Children Not Attended to by Next Monday Exclusion Notices Will Be Served.

According to Dr. D. J. Dunn, medical superintendent of the Edmonton school board, a large number of parents on the South Side are objecting to having their children vaccinated. He visited one room in a South Side school this week, and found that only twenty-one out of forty-two had been attended to in that respect. Notices are being served on the parents, and if the children are not vaccinated by Monday next, they will be handled as delinquents.
Dr. Dunn says he has come across a number of other parents with similar views, but they are not large enough to carry the city.

EXPECT TO BEGIN MINING IN SPRING

P. J. Stuart, Engineer of British Collieries, Ltd., at Brazen, Returns to City.

P. J. Stuart, engineer in charge of the survey work for the British Collieries, Limited, of Brazen River, is stopping in the city for a few days. Mr. Stuart has been out west for the last eleven months in charge of the development work, and says that although the company has not started mining operations yet, they have better showing for a continuous supply of bituminous coal than any other company mining in the province.
Brazen River is situated at the base of the Rockies, about 150 miles west of Vancouver, and is in an ideal position for the development of the coal which sprouts the Little Bow River is situated only a short distance from the prospective mine, while Mount Selkirk can be seen only a short distance away. The trail into the scene of operations is three miles long and

PROBABLE THAT LIBERAL WILL RUN IN SOUTH LANARK

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
OTTAWA, Nov. 4.—The Evening Journal says tonight:
It is reported in authoritative circles today that the Liberals may nominate a candidate for the coming by-election in South Lanark.
This constituency has been so over-run by Conservatives so long that the Liberals had practically decided not to contest it, but the right in the Conservative ranks and the presence in the field of two government supporters have induced them to show their minds in the hope of electing a Liberal between the two Conservatives.
South Lanark was held for the Conservatives while H.H. by Hon. J. A. Haggart, until his death last year.

desires of Queens and Richmond minor officials in those boroughs, and a few scattering assemblies.

The entire Tammany ticket in New York county (Manhattan) was beaten. The Fusionists captured the county offices in Kings county (Brooklyn) and the Bronx.

His Plurality

Tammany Hall saw to nominate for the mayoralty, Edward J. McCull, as down to defeat by one of the latest pluralities ever given against a successor.

The election of Michael by a sweeping majority was early apparent, but turned out to be the success of McAneney and Deming assured.

It looks as though the Fusionists, everything, necessary might, of Tammany Hall, finally admitted. At the same time, however, the Fusionists, the man of the Republican county committee, claimed the election of the entire Fusion ticket in the greater city and of the New York county ticket as well.

"This is the worst loss delivered at Tammany in many years," said Kuntze in a statement. "It is doubtful if that organization will ever recover from it. The Republican is proud to have been affiliated with the Fusion movement, and has contributed the largest vote toward the election of Mr. Mitchell and his associates on the ticket."

Tammany's Statement.—Chas. E. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, followed by the following brief statement:

"The result speaks for itself," he said. "Mr. Mitchell has been elected by a majority of the voters. His experience in the state that he has had a successful administration and hope that it will be a substantial benefit to the city."

Former Judge McCull, the Tammany candidate, received 25,000 votes, the announcement of his defeat came when the Fusionists, John Johnson, his campaign manager, called the candidate on the telephone and told him the returns.

"He that said," said the Fusionists, "have been playing off all day and all night, I will send a telegram of congratulation to Mr. Mitchell, and go to bed."

Mayor-Elect's Statement.—Mayor-Elect declared there was not a personal triumph but a victory for the cause of good government. "I shall be proud for all the people of New York and not for any section or party," he declared in a statement. "I have no ambition, and that is to make New York a better governed city in America."

Judge McCull, who received personal greetings, he has not yet received the co-operation of Judge McCull, as chairman of the public opinion commission, in carrying out the plan for road front in the city.

Vote Given by Fusionists.—When Mr. Mitchell arrived at Fusion headquarters he received a great ovation, and his major victory was kept by the heavy concentration of the public opinion commission, in carrying out the plan for road front in the city.

"What are you going to do about Murphy?" he was asked.

"I am not recognizing either him or any one connected with him," he said. "I am not going to drive him out of business."

A Whitman Re-elected.—A foregone conclusion of the balloting today was the re-election of Chas. S. Whitman to the district at-large. He was elected by a majority of nearly all the many tickets.

ELECTION ONE OF QUIETEST IN HISTORY OF CITY

By Bulletin Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—With all the police captured shifted to new precincts, 700 picked detectives assigned to areas recognized as hot spots, and the city was kept in a state of quietude, the election at the polls, the election today was one of the quietest in the city in years. There were only about 100 riots during the day for illegal registration or illegal voting. The majority of the prisoners were discharged. There was trouble at polling places in a few districts on the east side, and in a few elsewhere. Prediction of whole-sale fraud was not verified. The superintendent of Elections Voorhees declared. Compared with former

TAMMANY LEADER ADMITS DEFEAT ON MAY 11

By Bulletin Leased Wire. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Thomas S. Whitman, Tammany Hall, at 10:20 o'clock said:

"I think like we have lost everything. Mitchell is elected by a majority, and it looks as though we had lost every other place, including the New York county ticket."

When the police said, the election was orderly to an unusual degree.

It was estimated that practically the entire vote was cast by midnight. The vote was the heaviest in the city in years.

When taken into account of the election day enthusiasm to secure pledges for the cause of equal election. The Women's Suffrage League of the 23rd assembly district maintained a hall in an automobile in the street at Columbus circle, and men passing were invited to vote.

They were asked to give names and addresses and the "outs" were prompted their names to the hall.

At the hall, the speaker, Mr. J. H. McGraw, made speeches from the automobile during the day. Col. J. H. Coffey, who headed the march from New York to Washington

WALSH HAS BIG PLURALITY IN MASSACHUSETTS

By Bulletin Leased Wire. BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 4.—David Walsh, Democrat and distinguished member of the bar, was elected governor of the state by a plurality of 50,000. The remainder of the state ticket was also elected by a plurality of 50,000. The election district had responded, shortly before midnight, to the news of the election. The Democrats claimed a complete victory, except in the legislature, and the returns, as far as they could be ascertained, supported this claim.

happened. H. L. Williams, manager of the company, was in charge of the party, and he did everything in his power to make the trip as comfortable as possible. The circumstances conspired to make everything go very smoothly. The newspaper men were Harold Moore of the Journal, James Stewart of the Capital and Dixon Crane of the Bulletin.

All in Good Spirits.—The very best feeling of the whole trip is the fact that even in spite of the long hike of some hundred miles, the sleeping out of doors every night, the cold, and the various hardships endured, every member of the party has returned not only in the best of spirits, but with very good health.

Physically, in spite of aching muscles, strained and swollen ankles and other minor injuries that half a dozen "tenderfeet" naturally would be expected to acquire, the course of such prolonged and unusual effort, everyone was determined to make the most of everything, with the result that misfortunes were laughed at and aches and pains borne with a good grace.

At Alhambra yesterday morning when the party arrived, the general comment was of admiration for the plucky way in which the aldermen had made the trip. The only complaint, but the speed at which the ground was covered, was practically no complaint at all.

Society will be particularly gay the latter part of the week. The Humane Society has on Thursday night and the first assembly of the season booked for Friday night are always held.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild of Robertson Presbyterian Church was held yesterday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Dyke presiding over an attendance of about fifty. Very satisfactory reports from the various committees were read. Mrs. Tooley telling of the work of the committee on the church. Mrs. Hush of the social committee. The convention of the Presbytery church societies reported the receipt of the sum of eight hundred dollars in membership. The balance after the meeting in hand. This money is applied solely for the furnishing of the college, for which the ladies are responsible.

Dr. Dyke addressed the meeting, telling the ladies what the college had done in the past, and what he hoped to do in the future. He said it was the only theological college in Canada carrying on extra-mural work there being students in the three prairie provinces, and one student far away as Vancouver, South America. There were now fifty-four residents in the college, which was more than double the number at the theological school of Queen's University at Kingston.

At the present time, said Dr. Dyke, they were co-operating with the University of Alberta and Alberta College, with the result that the students now had the benefit of the services of seven professors.

It was agreed by the meeting to ask Dr. Dyke to give a chakrasan lecture in North Edmonton the first week in December, the proceeds to go towards founding a mission library for the extra-mural students.

During the afternoon an excellent musical program was carried out. The first solo, with recitative, "If with all your hearts," from the Bible, was delightfully sung by O. Pearson. Canon, who has a voice of remarkable sweetness and purity, with clear and true tone, and who is a well-known addition to the city's list of effective leaders.

One of Mendelssohn's masterpieces, "wailed for the Lord," in due form, was taken by a soloist, Miss. Moner, Robert Baron. These were "The Cry," by Saint-Saens, "Bereave," from Jouselin, "Evening Star," from Tannhauser, and "Tranquility," by Schumann. Moner, Baron has the technical ability and artistic temperament to evoke the finest qualities of his instrument. Major Watts was a sympathetic accompanist. The articles were accorded an aptly-voiced vote of thanks by Dr. Dyke, seconded by Mrs. Irvine.

letter days in the calendar of Edmonton's social history.

Margaret Anglin, one of Canada's most distinguished daughters, is crossing this water, of expectancy, and will of course draw crowded houses the three last nights of the week.

Mrs. O. W. Miller, Fourth avenue, N.E., north side, gave a tea on Thursday in aid of the Trinity building fund. The house was abloom with flowers and crowds thronged the street.

Ladies were Misses Almar, Misses Isabel and Marie Wilson, Miss Beaufort and Miss Jean Skinner.

Miss Beaufort and Miss Jean Skinner had charge of a table of hostesses, chiefs and fancy articles. Here daily little novelties did a "pushing business."

Miss Beaufort and Mrs. Ketchum passed delightfully through the afternoon.

Hosts of visitors called at the home of Mrs. Harold O. Ritchie, at her post-natal reception in her beautiful home on Saskatchewan avenue, north side, yesterday afternoon. The hostess was wearing her wedding gown of white satin, with chiffon drapes and trimmings of shadow lace and pink and blue roses.

The living room was decorated with white muslin and pink and blue roses.

The dining table was covered with yellow muslin and covered with beautiful lace doilies and soft yellow shaded candles to match the tones of the room.

Here Mrs. J. R. McKee and Mrs. J. H. McDonald poured the tea and Mrs. McKee cut the loaves. The assistants were Miss Rita Ritchie, Miss Grant, Miss Hill, Mrs. Cook, Miss Burns and Miss Blanche Heaton.

ADVERTISING REVENUE

The introduction of display advertisements into the Ontario edition of the city telephone directory has been the subject of a measure of adverse criticism. It is objected that the inclusion of such advertising increases the bulk of the book, and to that degree detracts from convenience in its use. If the large book is an appreciable disadvantage, the same may fairly be questioned. The advantage is presumed to be paid for by the price secured for the advertising. For the first time in the telephone directory of Edmonton, a part to the cost of the telephone directory has been borne by advertisers in place of taxpayers. The question of "advertisements," or "advertisements," is one for the taxpayers to decide as they prefer. To use no advertisements and pay the whole cost out of the city treasury, or admit advertising interests to save the treasury the amount so collected. The case is the same as in street car advertising. The city adds to its revenue by permitting advertising enterprises. No doubt it is profitable, when all goes well. Unfortunately the conditions necessarily prevailing in connection with this form of enterprise do not seem to be all going well. Although good cholerics are not native to the Canadian North West it can be developed here, and as a matter of fact has been developed in various seasons among herds of hogs fed on the refuse of other Alberta cities. At present the federal authorities are dealing with some cases which have occurred in the surroundings of Edmonton. The disease has not made serious headway, and the time of year is unfavorable to its spread, but everyone who is interested in hog raising in this district should take every precaution to prevent infection reaching his herds. The disease is very prevalent and destructive in more southern latitudes. It has never occurred in the Canadian North West under normal conditions, but even here the infection can be spread, and of course the results are fatal. Amongst the many problems that face the city, the best method of dealing with food refuse has been brought sharply to the front by the occurrence of this disease. While it might seem to be an economic waste to destroy food refuse, it might be better to be economical to do so than to establish centres of hog cholera infection in this district where hog raising plays such an important part. In any case the city authorities should look carefully into the matter and take whatever measure may be possible to eliminate or minimize risk of disease.

COMING ROUND.

Even the Toronto News is constrained to admit that it would probably be unwise to continue the Canadian duty which prevents the free shipment of "Indian wheat" to American "milling centres." The News was among the most vigorous opponents of the reciprocal trade arrangement. It pool-pooled the idea that free admission of his wheat to the United States centres would be of any substantial benefit to the Canadian farmer, and as lately as during the past summer has argued that the abolition of the duties would be more likely to cause a drop in Canadian prices than an increase.

Why this sudden demand that the duties be lowered on the Canadian price depressed by the supposed influx of United States wheat to Canada? Is the News still convinced that the removal of the duties would be followed by a drop in prices, and is it counselling the removal of the duties as a means of enabling the Canadian milling companies to fill their bins for less money? Having declared this would probably result from the removal of the duties, it is not unreasonable to suppose this is the result the News desires to see brought about.

Consistency, however, has never been a weakness of the News, and it may hardly be fair to accuse it of adhering in this case to the convictions it has previously professed. A more likely supposition is that the News, like some other opponents of reciprocity, discredited the probable results of "free wheat" for the sake only of making a political argument. The interests, which by this and similar arguments were brought into union, having got their friends into power, there is no object in continuing the protest that the arguments are sound. The frame having succeeded, why continue to repeat it when everyone knows it to be a fraud?

A SECOND MEXICAN WAR?

President Wilson's ultimatum gives President Huerta the choice of resigning forthwith or of defying the United States and risking still advanced interests in the country in Mexican affairs. President Wilson would hardly have gone to that length unless he is prepared to go the whole way. If the demand for Huerta's resignation is not forthcoming, the United States must either depose Huerta or must rest under the lastling humiliation of having backed down before a bloodily armed despot whose overthrow the Washington Government assumed as a duty before the world.

There is not much to be said in history up to date to indicate that he would rather lay aside the presidency of Mexico than fight to maintain it. He got it by overthrowing the usurper, former President Madero, and has been fighting ever since to keep it. So far as inclination and training go, the "provisional" head of the Republic is not much to be desired to be disposed to hang on and let the consequences work themselves out.

It is one thing to have participated in the rifle practice which takes the place of political controversy in the settlement of Mexico's internal affairs, and another thing to see the spread of the disease of the greatest nation of the world, whose credit and standing in the world depends upon the carrying out of its decisions. It is one thing to be unfavorable to its spread, but everyone who is interested in hog raising in this district should take every precaution to prevent infection reaching his herds. The disease is very prevalent and destructive in more southern latitudes. It has never occurred in the Canadian North West under normal conditions, but even here the infection can be spread, and of course the results are fatal. Amongst the many problems that face the city, the best method of dealing with food refuse has been brought sharply to the front by the occurrence of this disease. While it might seem to be an economic waste to destroy food refuse, it might be better to be economical to do so than to establish centres of hog cholera infection in this district where hog raising plays such an important part. In any case the city authorities should look carefully into the matter and take whatever measure may be possible to eliminate or minimize risk of disease.

FOLLOW THE LEAD.

The passage of a bill revising the tariff schedules drafted in something new in the history of the United States. But it is a fact.

It is admitted, too, that the bill is in line with the platform on which President Wilson sought election, and hence with the public opinion which put the tariff-making powers into his hands and those of his friends. Even by those who would have it otherwise it is conceded that after a half century of experience in the making of protection, the United States would be of any substantial benefit to the Canadian farmer, and as lately as during the past summer has argued that the abolition of the tariff ideal, and demanded lower rates of taxation on commodities grown and manufactured in other countries—and have got what they demanded.

Directly the new tariff measure is beneficially affecting conditions in Canada. Newspapers which are entering reciprocity as a useless and unimportant measure are now advertising the benefits which are coming to the Canadian farmer from the lower duties charged upon his products entering the United States. In this they are right. The reduction in United States duties is of benefit to the Canadian producer, the Canadian farmer particularly. Its benefit to him will be less only that the benefit he would derive from the abolition of the United States duties on his products and the lowering of the Canadian duties on certain lines of United States manufactured goods—both of which he would have secured under the reciprocal arrangement.

Indirectly the change in public opinion which has brought about the downward revision in the United States tariff must also have an influence upon public opinion in Canada regarding the fixtures for the Grocery Department. For generations the Canadian voter has been told that he should pattern his tariff theory after that of the United States and vote for the kind of tariff which was said to have worked marvels in encouraging the development of manufacturing enterprise in that country.

Now that the people of the United States have changed their ideal, and declared that the evils of high protection are not by their blessings, will the Canadian voter be still advised to follow their lead? Not likely. But the Canadian voter will be a strange sort of being if he does not do it without admonition.

Remarkd on the Side

Many a wedding man, according to one commentator, feels the pinch of his wife's extravagance in pursuit of the fashions of fashion. The woman on the other hand may think that when the fashions her feet are in fashion, shoes that are too small, it is only fair and proper that the man should bear his share of the pinching.

Mr. Bonanza, a British postmaster-general, says he does not believe in paying single women the same as married women. He wonders if he would admit the principle that the single woman should be remunerated according to the number of her olive branches?

Four great waterpumps in a row in mid-Atlantic are reported by editors who considered it one of the most remarkable phenomena they have ever witnessed. Just if they want to know something about water-spouting they should make a trip to Ontario.

Post-enters demand a fifteen-minute service of cars in the Highlands so as to enable them to get home a half hour to the city in the middle of the day. Perhaps the commissioners will compromise by offering them a free ride.

According to French law, a man who bribed an assassin to murder his mother-in-law cannot be punished because the assassin was not actually attempted. Perhaps it is considered that if they want to know something about water-spouting they should make a trip to Ontario.

A city employee, with $50 a month, tells the commissioners that he expects of living what they are, he would be better in jail, with no duties and no worries. With such a large and varied choice of laws to break, he need have little difficulty in finding an option. Still, one seems to have been a prisoner since he was born, and prison life had also his little worries.

The suffragettes in England would like very well if the doctors would join in refusing to perform any operation on a woman unless she had been married. They had better have a case. If the government must not let the suffragettes vote, let them starve, the only thing left will be to let them starve, and arrest them. That, surely, would be the crowning point of male tyranny.

ONLY WAY.

What does the letter of Mr. Short's mother mean? Does it mean that he has been a prisoner since he was born, and prison life had also his little worries.

As a matter of fact he did make that statement, and has made it on several occasions. It is not why he has allowed Commissioner Chalmers to report the imposition of having imposed the authority of Mr. Short's mother, but he has to wait the authority of Mr. Short's mother before giving particulars. Will he ever get the authority of Mr. Short's mother?

What do the ratpayers think of all this? Is this the kind of government they want? If the ratpayers in this case of this purpose, they will be disappointed. Commissioner Chalmers, they will be disappointed.

A very interesting debate took place at the regular weekly meeting of the Literary society in the hall of the Methodist church on Wednesday evening last. The subject was "Resolved that women should be given the suffrage." Messrs. Hattie and Parsonage took the negative and Messrs. Evans and Greer the affirmative side of the question, after a lengthy debate, containing many arguments from both sides, the judges voted in favor of the affirmative.

The jewelry store of J. K. Schneider was robbed Wednesday night by some novice burglar. The small window in the front of the store was broken, and the goods displayed there were taken. These comprised watches, rings, and the necklaces of an inferior quality. About $150 would cover the loss. The store was traced to a shack in the west end of the town, a distance of nearly a half a mile. The police are on the trail, and have arrested

MILITANTS WILL ORGANIZE GREAT VOLUNTEER ARMY

Sir Francis Vane, British Army Officer, to be Head of Training Corps

SUFFRAGETTES TO DO AS SIR EDWARD CARSON

Sylvia Pankhurst Makes Announcement of Intention of Militants Organization

London, Nov. 4.—Sylvia Pankhurst, in a speech at Hoxton today, announced that a volunteer army to defend the suffragette movement was to be raised in the east end of London. "Look at Sir Edward Carson," she said. "We have to do precisely the same thing. We have to get an army, and now the chance of having it is coming."

"Next Wednesday, Sir Francis Vane, an officer of the British army, who fought in the Boer and other wars and is going to be our commander, is to be present at a meeting and presenting our first training corps. If anyone here wants to join, will be or he give in their names."

"Sir Francis has several officers to set with him. It is no joke. We are absolutely in earnest. We have only got to get our army in training and we will get the same treatment as Carson."

Sir Francis Vane, who was born in 1861, was married in 1885 to a daughter of Baron De Carter, Baron, and succeeded his cousin in the barony in 1905.

He was a good deal of active service in the South African war. He volunteered at the beginning of the war and served as a captain in the Third Lancashire Regiment. Later he raised a force of light horse. He received two medals and other honors, with the rank of captain in the regular army. At the close of the war he was correspondent for the Daily News and other papers. He is the author of several books.
